

Bollo

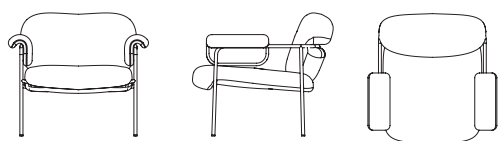

DESIGN ANDREAS ENGESVIK

MATERIAL

Frame: Metal with wood sections
 Seat: Rubber staps, loose layers of polyether and padding
 Back: Polyether with wadding
 Armrests: Polyether with wadding

Bollo was initiated as a typical Scandinavian lounge chair with slim features and modest use of materials. The final result is a chair driven by comfort, both visually and in use. The soft volumes reach out to embrace the slim metal base, creating an interesting intersection between the base and its cushions. Spisolini is a higher, slimmer variant more suited to dining seating.
